

BEATING BOSS AT HIS OWN GAME

BERLIN Nov. 20.—East African superstition and ingenuity are amusingly illustrated in an incident related by the German colonel, Dr. E. Nigmann, in his memoirs of the days when he was in charge of colonial administration in that part of the world.

One of his most reliable aides, he says, was a native lieutenant, colonel who had lost an eye during one of the local expeditions and wore a glass eye in its place. This officer was assigned to superintend the erection of a postoffice in a rural district. The inhabitants had long been delinquent in tax payments and consequently each male adult was required to meet his civic obligations by putting in a week's labor on the new government building.

One day while the native laborers were industriously at work under his various watch, the lieutenant colonel was temporarily called away. On leaving the building he took out the glass eye, placed it on one of the walls and announced to the workers: "Look here, my men, I must go now, but I am leaving my eye to keep tabs on you and to see that you keep working while I am away. The gang was paid at work when he returned.

Next day the colonel had another summons to leave his post. Again he placed the glass eye in charge, and left. Returning he noticed from afar that the building operations were at a standstill and all of his dusky laborers were peacefully upon investigation he found they had carefully covered the glass eye with an old hat.

Red Cross Roll Call Heard World Around

The Annual Roll Call of the American Red Cross for registration of the membership for 1923 will begin on Armistice Day, November 11, and close on Thanksgiving Day, November 30. The ground work for this stupendous task of re-enrolling the membership throughout the world has been laid in a plan for the first complete and comprehensive system of registration of the Red Cross membership in all its 3,300 active chapters at home and abroad.

An important feature of the round-the-world Roll Call campaign will be a universal effort to re-enlist the service of wartime Red Cross workers in the peace program by their participation in the Roll Call. In this way the vast army of volunteers will once more affiliate with the work of the Red Cross in its manifold phases. Cooperation also has been assured by Government and private nations in interests in a deep-sea Roll Call that is designed to reach every member or potential member in every part of the world who may be on voyage or at sea.
